Picture here of a large egg containing an image of a delicious ripe mango in the middle and all around that mango are faces saying:

“You must wait 3 months before you taste the mango!”

“You must believe in God, or wish to believe in God, before you can eat the mango!”

“You must not eat it in the presence of the opposite sex”

“Ladies, you must not taste it during menstruation”

Back Cover

Picture here of the large egg with nothing inside it, representing the latihan, plain and simple.

Underneath is written:

Bapak has said the latihan is like a mango. You can go to great lengths describing what it is like, its qualities, appearance, what the taste is like, where it comes from etc etc. Or you could just give them a piece to taste for themselves...

What need of words then?
